

AKRAM KHAN COMPANY

Audition notice

Highly skilled, versatile dancers with experience in dance theatre required

Akram Khan is seeking professional performers to cast his next production, Project Alchemist.

Due to the nature of this production, we are looking for female-identifying performers between 20 and 45 years old, with strong improvisation skills and a foundation in ballet.

The selected dancers from the audition must be available for 3 weeks of rehearsals from 8 May 2023, and to tour with the Company from November 2023 and beyond.

Auditions will take place in London from Monday 13 February 2023

Please see details below

Audition is by invitation only and we will be shortlisting dancers as follows:

Dancers are required to attend the audition on Monday 13 February with daily call back sessions from Tuesday 14 February until Friday 17 February 2023. So please be aware that you might have to stay five consecutive days in total if you are shortlisted. You will be informed of this decision at the end of each audition day.

Venue

London, UK

To apply

– Please complete the Google Audition Application Form HERE, and attach your CV and Cover Letter outlining why you would like to work with the company.

– Please add the link of one recent performance video in the assigned field of the application form. The video must not exceed 3 minutes and must be good quality.
